The Invitation

John Samuels, QC, and the trustees invite you to the Prisoners Education Trust Annual Lecture at Clifford Chance offices in Canary Wharf. The Trust is delighted to welcome the Archbishop of York, Dr John Sentamu, as keynote speaker at this important event in our calendar.

As economic constraints grow, the pressure to find a different way forward for our society in relation to criminal justice and the prison population also increases. We need to listen to as many voices as possible and explore ethical questions as well as pragmatic choices. We look forward to hearing Dr Sentamu's insights.

The Venue

Once again, Clifford Chance is offering the Trust its excellent conference and hospitality facilities and we are very grateful for its support. The offices are easily reached by public transport – the jubilee line to Canary Wharf station takes about 10-15 minutes from central London; take the Upper Bank street exit and the offices are over the road from the station. Car parks are marked on the map. We look forward to seeing you there!

The Speaker

John Tucker Mugabi Sentamu was born into Uganda's Buffalo clan, the sixth of thirteen children. Encouraged in his education by English missionaries and teachers, he graduated in law from Makerere University, and practised Law both at the Bar and at the Bench at the High Court of Uganda before he came to the UK in 1974.

There, he read theology at Selwyn College, Cambridge gaining a Masters Degree and a Doctorate before training for ordination at Ridley Hall, Cambridge and then serving as Assistant Chaplain at Selwyn College, Cambridge. From 1979-1982 he was Chaplain at HM Remand Centre Latchmere House and Curate of St Andrew's, Ham, in the Diocese of Southwark.

Dr Sentamu held positions in various churches in South London, before being appointed Bishop for Stepney in 1996, then Bishop for Birmingham in 2002 and Archbishop of York in 2005.

Beyond the Church, Dr Sentamu has been Adviser to the Stephen Lawrence Judicial Inquiry and chaired the Damilola Taylor Murder Review, 2002. Between 2002 and 2004 he was Chairman of the EC1 New Deal and became President of the YMCA in April 2005.

Dr Sentamu's interests include music, cooking, reading, athletics, rugby and football. He is married to Margaret, and they have two grown-up children, Grace and Geoffrey and two grown-up foster children.

To say I am grateful to you is rather an understatement, because of your help; I now have goals and ambitions. In fact, I hope to start a degree this year and I would never have contemplated this if it were not for PET having faith in me to achieve a Diploma in the first place. Your belief in me means more than you'll ever know.

Your Support

This is a fundraising event to raise more money to buy distance learning courses for prisoners. Entry to the Annual Lecture is free, but we hope that we can count on your support. Distance learning is often the only option available to prisoners wishing to learn beyond basic levels and the courses funded by the Trust develop the skills and qualifications essential to a successful resettlement.

This year, the Trust celebrates its 21st birthday and has also reached the milestone of its 20,000th grant, in April. To mark our birthday, and our mission in which we see education as the key to a better future, we are appealing especially for funds to help prisoners take courses in useful and popular employment areas such as the sports industry, business and health and social care.

Please give generously. Thank you in advance for your support!
